

FINALLY, we were given a choice as to whether we wanted to receive unwanted telemarketing calls by the enactment of Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. I strongly feel that the FCC should NOT implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law has improved my time at home with my family by limiting the the amount of UNWANTED telemarketing calls we would receive from 10 to 12 calls per week to approximately one call per week. I do not appreciate receiving UNWANTED telemarketing calls that disrupt the precious time I have with my family and that is why I signed up to be on Indiana's "Do Not Call" list.
